

NeuroRestorative Texas Program Provides Spanish-Speaking Rehabilitation Services

Do you support an Injured Worker whose first language is Spanish?
Consider NeuroRestorative in El Paso, Texas!

NeuroRestorative knows that people thrive in environments that celebrate and affirm their culture and language. We take pride in ensuring that our rehabilitation programs designed for injured workers are culturally reflective of the people we serve. Our El Paso program provides neurorehabilitation care, support, and services in an environment where culturally Hispanic meals, language, and values are reflected in all we do, including:

Spanish-speaking programming:

Over 90% of our skilled staff are Spanish-speaking, which allows our team to provide care in an injured worker's first language, easing communication and improving participation.

Peer support: Most of the injured workers we serve in El Paso identify as Hispanic, providing a peer support group that we have seen produces better outcomes and customer satisfaction.

Bilingual signage: Even the small things, such as posted signs and menus, are provided with our Hispanic population in mind. Injured workers feel at home, and confusions of translation are avoided.
